Dear Neighbor:

Jericho Water District provides the following instructions if you are finding rusty water in your sinks and toilets following the resumption of normal water pressure.

- Wait about an hour and then open up a faucet, preferably in the basement (slop sink), close to where the water line comes in.
- Run COLD water until it clears up. It shouldn't take more than a few minutes and no more than half an hour. Running the hot just brings it into the hot water heater and may reduce the efficiency of the unit.
